Kate Goldenberg – A Heart for Those in Need

By Emily Shields

Kate Goldenberg has a self-proclaimed “soft heart,” but it suits her well.

The Pennsylvania native uses her caring nature to operate Safe Haven Equine, which is both a rescue and rehabilitation farm in Perkasie. From that same location, Kate breeds, raises, and trains her own Thoroughbreds as well. Her multi-faceted approach to the industry keeps her busy, and her eternal optimism keeps her doing what she loves.

Goldenberg grew up playing polo and riding point-to-point races, eventually experiencing a vast array of equine sport. “I was always fortunate to be able to trail ride and have fun on horses, but also showed at Devon, the whole range of things.”

She has been rescuing horses for 45 years, “before it was fashionable. I have a soft heart for every hurt, sad eye, and I’d never sold any horse I ever had. I’ve had to learn to let go so I can rescue more; you can’t save more if you keep them because there’s a limit.”

That realization pushed Goldenberg to school the horses and start placing them in new homes. “Because of doing horse stuff my whole life I have a huge connection,” she said. “I rarely have to go outside my network to place horses in forever homes where they are safe and they really fit.”

A student living with Goldenberg a few years ago documented that 1,200 horses went through Safe Haven in a four-year period. Other than one $4,000 check from Thoroughbred Charities of America, the entire operation has been built on Goldenberg’s own sweat and dedication. It has become something much bigger than the original intention.

“Even with the name Safe Haven Equine, people didn’t read the Equine part so I rescued dogs, birds, chickens, anything. It became a place that kids and adults could hang out, a safe place. The doors are always open for a good meal and a bottle of wine. I wasn’t the one who named it Safe Haven, people just kept saying ‘This is my safe haven.’”

It seemed inevitable that with all her experience in the industry that Goldenberg would get involved with racehorses. The first horse that she took to the track was Windy Woman, a forgettable sort whose best effort was a fourth-place finish at Atlantic City. “She got me started,” Goldenberg recalled, “and then I got my trainer’s license.”

Now 62, she has had modest success with a lot of winners—Storibook Stuff, Playful Omen, and Slaminator are just a few—but had never bred a stakes winner until Saratoga Jack came along. The heartrending story behind his name makes his exploits on the track all the more meaningful.

Jean Mahoney, who first met Goldenberg when boarding a horse at her aunt’s house 35 years ago, suffered a devastating loss when her husband was killed in a work-related accident June 11, 2013. Goldenberg had a colt born less than three months before on March 29, and she named him Saratoga Jack after Mahoney’s late husband.

"We were talking at a polo fundraiser and she said that she had a colt named after my Jack and wanted me to come see him," Mahoney recalled. "I went to the farm a few weeks later and after seeing him I knew I had to have him. I told Kate I wanted him, but she said she didn't name him just so I'd take him. I said I know, but I really want him. A couple of weeks later he shipped to Maryland for training and that's how I got the colt."

Saratoga Jack, a son of Emperor Tiberius out of the Williams-town mare Thinkoutsidethebox, has been a blessing to them both. He broke his maiden in his January debut at Penn National, winning by three-quarters of a length in a race for registered PA-breds. He proceeded to pick up a check in his next three starts, all allowance condition races, before annihilating an optional claiming event by 10¾ lengths.

That effort set him up for an ambitious start in the $154,500 Pegasus Stakes-G3 at Monmouth Park. Saratoga Jack ran well, finishing fourth behind winner Donegal Moon and defeating the heavily favored Unified while still earning a $9,000 payday.

Next out, Saratoga Jack won his first stakes race, the $100,000 Crowd Pleaser Stakes at Parx. He now has a record of three wins, a second and a third from eight starts with earnings of $154,830.

"For him to run this well is unbelievable," Mahoney said. "As a baby he was not an attractive horse; the trainer said he looked like a donkey with a skinny neck. He was a gawky, awkward horse, and all of the sudden through his 2-year-old year he grew into this monster. He's very striking with this presence about him."

"This was the first stakes winner for everyone connected," Goldenberg said. "It's a dream come true for all of them. And the fact that Jean has him and he's named after her husband, it seems like divine intervention."

Goldenberg has four of her own broodmares, including Saratoga Jack's dam Thinkoutsidethebox, who she calls "The gentlest, most people loving horse in the world." She produced a "magnificent" foal by Show Tune this year, and was bred back to Emperor Tiberius for 2017.

Thanks to Saratoga Jack, Mahoney and Goldenberg are closer than ever. "Kate hasn't had a lot of breaks, but she works hard and continues to work hard no matter what they throw at her," Mahoney said. "She's a self reliant, genuine person, and always tries to help with the kids and horses that come to her farm. She's had some tough knocks, but she just keeps coming." ■

PA-BREDS BRING IN NEARLY $1 MILLION AT FASIG-TIPTON SARATOGA SALE

PA-Breds were a hot commodity at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale. Included in the auction were five yearlings, all with desirable pedigrees. Blackstone Farm LLC dominated the market, having bred four out of the five horses.

First in the ring was Hip No. 69, a dark bay/brown colt by Pioneerof the Nile, out of a Giant's Causeway mare, La Boheme. He was sold for $200,000.

Next was Hip No. 78, a bay filly by Blame, winner of the 2010 Breeders' Cup Classic, out of Lovely Stay. Bred by Jonathan Shepherd, this promising filly racked up $80,000 at auction.

Hip No. 82 was a bay filly out of an Arch mare that went for $240,000. She was sired by The Factor, winner of multiple graded stakes including the Grade 1 Malibu Stakes and Grade 1 Pat O'Brien Stakes.

A Super Saver colt out of Rich N Clever sold for $145,000 as Hip No. 137. Super Saver was the 2010 Kentucky Derby winner, while Rich N Clever's sire, Richter Scale, won multiple graded stakes, including the Grade 2 Breeders' Cup Sprint Handicap Championship.

Last but not least, Hip No. 202 was the highest-selling PA-Bred at $285,000. This bay filly is by Ghostzapper, out of Amber Grace, a PA-Bred herself and daughter of multiple graded stakes winner Elusive Quality. ■

NEW PA-BRED STAKES WINNER: MISTER NOFTY

Mister Nofty, a homebred racing in the name of Hank Nothhaft's HnR Nothhaft Horseracing LLC, recorded his fourth win in his last five starts, and first in a stakes, when shipping to Delaware Park for the Grover Buddy Delp Memorial on Aug. 24. The son of Scat Daddy was on the lead at every call and turned back the challenge of favorite Doctor Mouny over the final furlong of the mile and a sixteenth test for 3-year-olds to win by a neck. After posting splits of :23.81, :47.34, 1:10.93 and 1:36.41, the Keith Nation's trainee finished in 1:43.02 over eight rivals. The 16-1 shot rewarded his backers $34.40 for the win.

Third or better in seven of his eight career outings, Mister Nofty broke his maiden in his fourth start, at Parx at one mile on June 12 as the 3-5 favorite. It was his first race since February, when he finished a solid second behind future stakes winner Aquaphobia at Tampa Bay Downs. He recorded his second win in a row in a June 26 Parx allowance, leading with ease while facing older runners and coming home a four and a half-lengths winner. Following a fourth-place finish in the Crowd Pleaser Stakes, he rebounded with an allowance score at Parx on August 9, again winning easily by five lengths as the only 3-year-old in the six-horse field. With his stakes score, he has now banked $119,870.

Nothhaft, a native of Pennsylvania and former member of the PHBA board who makes his home in California, purchased Walking Path, the dam of Mister Nofty, for $100,000 at the 2012 Keeneland November breeding stock sale with the future stakes winner in utero.

Mister Nofty is the mare's first foal—she also has a 2-year-old daughter of Pioneerof the Nile named Oh No, who has yet to start, and a yearling filly by Dunkirk, both Pennsylvania-breds. ■

PA-Bred Stakes Recaps: Penn National and Presque Isle Downs

Malvern Rose Stakes

It took seven tries for Lucabunny to win her first start, and just six days to take her second, which was also her stakes debut. And she did it dramatically, shocking bettors in the $100,000 Malvern Rose Stakes at Presque Isle Downs on Aug. 7 with a dazzling come-from-behind rally.

The longest shot in the field of nine 3-year-old fillies, Lucabunny was well off the pace set by the battling even-money favorite Behrnik's Bank and Disco Rose. The daughter of the late Pennsylvania sire Silver Train began her move heading into the far turn of the one-mile test and looped the field, going six-wide around the turn. Sent off at 25-1, she won by three-quarters of a length over fellow longshot Hey Monba (20-1)—the exacta paying $684. War Baby (at 15-1) completed the $7,790 trifecta. Multiple stakes winner Behrnik's Bank was eased in the stretch.

Owned by Tuozzo Racing LLC and trained by Nick Caruso, Lucabunny was bred by Gunpowder Farms and is the first foal out of Record High, a daughter of Touch Gold who earned $150,180 during her 44-start career. Gunpowder Farms' Tom Keithley purchased the mare with the future stakes winner in utero for $8,000 at the 2012 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December Mixed sale. Lucabunny was claimed from her breeder out of her second start, for $25,000 at Penn National this past January by trainer Blane Servis on behalf of Tuozzo Racing. The chestnut filly, who rallied to break her maiden on Aug. 1 at Presque Isle going five and a half furlongs, now has earnings of $110,078 from eight starts.

Blasts From The Past

WITH ANTICIPATION

1995, by Relaunch—Fran's Valentine, by Saros (GB).
Bred by George Strawbridge Jr. Owned by Augustin Stable.
Trained by Jonathan E. Sheppard.

Few sights were more dazzling than the big, nearly white With Anticipation surging down the green expanses of Belmont, Saratoga and Monmouth Park en route to Grade 1 turf wins in the early 2000s. George Strawbridge's homebred gelding by leading sire Relaunch out of the highly accomplished racemare Fran's Valentine was the proverbial late-bloomer, and became a fan favorite.

With Anticipation was actually a winner at 2, breaking his maiden at five and a half furlongs on Delaware Park's main track, and finished third in that year's Pennsylvania Futurity. But he wouldn't win in stakes company until nearly three years later, in Delaware Park's Charles Staats Stakes, also on the dirt, even though he was multiple graded stakes-placed during those years.

Trainer Jonathan Sheppard sent With Anticipation on a different path early in the gelding's 6-year-old season. Racing on the turf for the first time that year (his only other turf start was a third-place finish as a 3-year-old), With Anticipation won easily by nearly nine lengths at Keeneland. He got his first turf stakes win next out in Churchill Downs' Louisville Handicap by six lengths. A star was born.

He finished first in his next three starts, all Grade 1 tests. While a superb effort in the United Nations at Monmouth was negated after he was disqualified to second for drifting out during a stretch battle which he won by a head, there was no question in his next two efforts, frontrunning scores in Saratoga's Sword Dancer Invitational (getting a mile and a half in 2:26.41) and Belmont's one and three-eighths-mile Man o' War Stakes.

The next year he swept the three again. He officially won the U.N. and setting a course record in the process, getting the mile and three-eighths in 2:12.81. In his final start of the year, he defeated all but European champion High Chaparral (Ire) in the Breeders' Cup Turf-G1 at Arlington Park. His 7-year-old campaign was his best—from eight starts, he won three and was second three times, earning $1.5 million.

He ran three times at 8, all Grade 1s, but didn't display the same zip before being sidelined by a tendon injury. After his first start at 9, he re-aggravated the tendon injury in February and was officially retired. He made 48 starts during his career, won 15 and with earnings of $2,660,543, was at the time the second-richest PA-Bred ever (he now ranks fifth). Saratoga named a turf stakes race in his honor, although ironically it's for 2-year-olds.

With Anticipation participated in a new activity as staff horse for huntsman Ivan Dowling at Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Foxhounds in Unionville until he was retired for good in 2010. Known around the barn as "Anti", he continues to live the life of leisure at Strawbridge's Augustin Stable near Cochranville, a pasturemate with other Strawbridge greats. ■
