Southern operation in Pennsylvania

By Linda Dougherty

Jack Damico may live in Georgia, but for many years he has been an enthusiastic supporter of the Pennsylvania breeding and racing programs.

Damico, who heads The Posse Racing Stable, a partnership group consisting of close friends, turned his attention to Pennsylvania because of the money that can be made by breeding and racing homebreds. He is also vice president of the Georgia Horse Racing Coalition, working to bring horse racing to Georgia. Damico and his partner Tom Schulte started a Thoroughbred operation at Schulte's Southern Oak Farm in Ball Ground, Ga., last year, in anticipation of Georgia legalizing pari-mutuel wagering.

The Posse has about a dozen horses in training at tracks in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Florida. Kate DeMasi handles the Posse horses at Parx Racing, while Erin McClellan trains the horses at Penn National. However, they have also used Flint Stites, John Connor and Brandon Kulp at Penn National. In New York, Gary Gullo does the training honors, while in Florida Kathleen O'Connell handles the horses.

"We don't have a lot of horses, but we always have a lot of fun," said Damico.

It was at Penn National on April 28 that The Posse celebrated its 300th win with Keystone Jones (above), who broke her maiden by 4½ lengths for McClellan. A 3-year-old daughter of Smarty Jones, Keystone Jones is out of Keystone Dancer (by Dance With Ravens), who was also campaigned by The Posse.

This year, another homebred to find the winner's circle for The Posse include Hello'ndubai, who broke his maiden March 1 at Penn National, defeating nine rivals and becoming the partnership's 299th winner. The 3-year-old gelded son of E Dubai is out of Eden is Burning, by Hook and Ladder.

"We started breeding and racing in Pennsylvania quite a while ago," said Damico, a forensic accountant. "We stood our stakes stallion U So Bad at Tom Reigle's farm [Reigle Heir in Grantville, in 2002] and sent mares to support him. Although that didn't work so well, we've still been foaling mares at Jodie Pointer's Pointer Farm in Bernville."

Pointer and her husband, Tom, own and operate Pointer Farm, as well as a rescue, Cabin Creek Rescue and Retirement, on about 85 acres.

"Jodie is a dear friend of mine," said Damico, who said he typically keeps one or two mares at Pointer Farm. "I consider her part of our extended family. We've worked with her for a long time, and we also try to support her rescue."

Pointer echoed Damico's words, stating, "We're more than business partners – we're like family. I really respect Jack because of the way he cares about his horses. If a horse needs time off, no matter how long, he'll give it. We're good together and have a mutual respect for one another."

The Posse has campaigned many good horses over the years, including stakes performers American Dreamer, Cin Cin, Legacy Wildcat, Paint Me Red, Rebecca Mae, Timely Threat and the aforementioned U So Bad. Multiple winners Crucial Time, who annexed 11 races; Atlanta National, a six-time winner who was named for the Pete Dye golf course Jack co-founded in 1987, and Arrow's Flight, a nine-time winner, including five consecutively at Gulfstream Park, all wore the red, white and blue Posse silks. Arrow's Flight is now a permanent resident at Cabin Creek Rescue.

Damico is a native of Fair Haven, N.J., and was exposed to horse racing at a young age. While in high school, he worked at the Rumson Country Club in Monmouth County, not far from Monmouth Park.

"I was a caddy for Amory L. Haskell [the first president of the new racetrack when it opened in 1946], as well as starter Eddie Blind," he recalled. "They would play a round of golf early, and then get to the track." He was also a part-owner of Wayar, who raced in the Haskell Invitational in 1986.

Damico said that, over the years, he estimates he's introduced about 50 people to racing through The Posse. Several of the friends that are involved in the stable are lawyers and professionals from the Philadelphia region, with Damico nicknaming them the "Philadelphia mini-Posse."

Damico will attend sales in New York, Kentucky and Florida and buy horses for The Posse's racing stable, then get several people involved in each. His family – wife Becky and daughters Jennifer and Lacey – help select the horses and come up with catchy names.

Damico is also heavily involved in the push to legalize pari-mutuel racing in Georgia.

"We think it's a no-brainer that a racetrack would economically benefit the state," he said. "We envision two boutique meets – 30 days in the spring and 30 days in the fall."

The Georgia Horse Racing Coalition has already developed plans for a new multi-purpose entertainment facility and racetrack, a privately-funded venture that would sit on 250 acres. Damico said the location of the track near Atlanta would be a halfway spot between the Florida and northern ovals.

According to the preliminary design, created by Populous, a global architecture and design firm, the racetrack would be integrated into a community which features a walkable neighborhood, public market, office park, hotel and casino, entertainment options, and recreation park.

The infield of the track would be the recreation park, which connects to the surrounding development with linear green spaces that reach into the neighborhood. These linear spaces connect under the track, forming gateways to the central park space. The track would be complemented by shops, entertainment options and restaurants, and is projected to create thousands of jobs.

Until these plans come to fruition, Damico and The Posse will continue to race and breed in Pennsylvania, and take advantage of its lucrative owner and breeder awards. ■

Mor Spirit Scores Victory in Historic Met Mile-G1

The Grade 1 Metropolitan Handicap, or Met Mile for short, remains one of the nation's most esteemed races for older horses. Champions, future leading sires, the creme de la creme have won the race in its 124 runnings. PA-Bred Mor Spirit added his name to the list of illustrious winners that includes Native Dancer and Buckpasser, Forego and Kelso, Equipoise, Tom Fool and Stymie, Devil Diver and Ghostzapper when he spurted away to a six and a quarter-length victory in 1:33.71 for the mile over Belmont's sandy oval on June 10.

Bob Baffert trains the 4-year-old son of Eskendereya for Michael Lund Petersen and was impressed with the effort, telling the throng of press on hand for Belmont Stakes Day, "That was pretty impressive, I have to admit. All my horses were impressive today, but this horse the way he ran today, how fast he ran – it was incredible." It was the first win for Baffert in the Met Mile, a designated "Win and You're In" event for the Grade 1 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile, and completed a stakes sweep for the California-based trainer, who won with all four horses he entered that day.

Mor Spirit, a Grade 1 winner at 2 when he captured the Los Alamitos Futurity, was a stakes winner at 3 in the Grade 3 Robert

B. Lewis Stakes to start his year as he targeted the Triple Crown. Two seconds in graded company at Santa Anita, including the Grade 1 Santa Anita Derby, put him in the Kentucky Derby field, but after finishing 10th, he was away from the races until the Grade 1 Malibu last December, where he finished fourth.

This year's campaign has been one of huge leaps, as now the dark bay has won three stakes in a row. He kicked off the season finishing second to stablemate Hoppertunity in the Grade 2 San Antonio, then ventured to Oaklawn Park, where he won the Essex Handicap under top weight. Next out was a trip to Lone Star and a rousing five and three-quarter-length score in the Steve Sexton Mile Stakes-G3, which pushed The Elkstone Group-bred past the $1 million mark in earnings.

With the Met Mile win, Mor Spirit increased his lifetime bankroll to $1,658,400 from 13 starts, and has been first or second in 11 of his races.

Mor Spirit ranked fifth on the NTRA Top Thoroughbred Poll through June 26, behind only Arrogate, Gun Runner, Songbird and Shaman Ghost.

A date will be coming shortly. Photos from this year can be found in this issue.

Our 17th annual Pennsylvania's Day At the Races at Parx Racing is just around the corner. The event will take place on Saturday, Sept. 2, with registration beginning at 12 p.m.

The day will honor and celebrate the breeding industry here in the Commonwealth, as well as provide the chance for some top-notch horses to showcase their talents in our five $100,000 stakes: the Banjo Picker Sprint for 3 and up at six furlongs; the Roanoke for 3 and up at a mile and a sixteenth; the Marshall Jenney for sprinters 3 and up at five furlongs on the turf; the Dr. Teresa Garofalo Memorial for fillies and mares, 3 and up, at six furlongs; and the Mrs. Penny for fillies and mares, 3 and up, at a mile and a sixteenth on the turf. A 25% PA-sired bonus will again be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in all stakes.

To nominate your horse, please call Parx Racing at 215.639.9000. Early nominations close Saturday, July 15. We hope to see you on Sept. 2!

EL PADRINO GETS FIRST WINNER

Northview PA's popular chestnut stallion El Padrino got his first winner as a freshman sire when his first runner Whereshetoldmetogo scored at 5 furlongs in a maiden race for 2-year-olds at Delaware Park June 8.

Owned by Black Cloud Racing and trained by Anthony Pecoraro, Whereshetoldmetogo was left at the break, trailed into the stretch, then mowed down his five rivals to win going away by 2½ lengths. The longest shot on the board and one of only two first-time starters in the field, he paid $27.40 to win.

Bred in Maryland by Northview Stallion Station's general manager and director of sales David Wade, Whereshetoldmetogo was foaled March 22 out of Wade's winning homebred mare Undisputed Legend (by Domestic Dispute). The chestnut colt, sold by Wade through the Northview Stallion Station consignment for $7,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall Yearling sale to Black Cloud Racing, is his dam's fourth winner from as many foals of racing age.

El Padrino has 53 2-year-olds in his first crop. The strikingly handsome chestnut entered stud at Northview PA in Peach Bottom in 2014 and covered 89 mares his first season, the second most of any stallion in the region, behind only established sire

Any Given Saturday. He covered 109 mares the next year to top the region.

El Padrino was successful on the track – a Grade 2 winner of $326,770 who contested the Kentucky Derby-G1 – and boasts an extended family of Grade 1 winners. The now 8-year-old is a son of sire of sires Pulpit and the first foal for the Giant's Causeway mare Enchanted Rock. He is a year-old half-brother to multiple Grade 1 winner Verrazano, an earner of $1,878,013 whose two biggest scores came in $1 million stakes – the Wood Memorial and Haskell Invitational. Their dam, Enchanted Rock, has also produced multiple stakes-placed mare La Madrina. His second and third dams, Chic Shirine (by Mr. Prospector) and Too Chic (by Blushing Groom-Fr), are both Grade 1 winners. Found in the immediate family are Chic Shirine's full-sister, champion handicap mare and three-time Grade 1 winner Queena, as well as Grade 1 winners Somali Lemonade, Brahms, Harmonize and Serra Lake.

El Padrino stood the 2017 season for $5,000 live foal as the property of a syndicate. ■

OBITUARY: DR. RICHARD A. REVELEY

Dr. Richard A. Reveley, a longtime breeder/owner who with his wife Gale campaigned the well-known "S W" stable of runners under their Spring Water Farm banner, passed away on June 2, 2017, at his home in Glen Rock, Pa. He was 75.

Dr. Reveley served on the boards of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeder's Association and the Pennsylvania Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association. He and Gale earned a Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association award as Pennsylvania's outstanding owners and breeders of 1999. They also were selected the year 2000 Mid-Atlantic Regional Owners of the Year. In 2005, Richard received the PHBA Champion Three-Year-Old Filly award for S W Aly'svalentine, and in 2006, he took home her trophy for Champion Older Female.

Born in Little Rock, Ark., Dr. Reveley graduated from Ohio State University with a DDS degree and a Bachelor of Arts degree in anatomy. Highlights of his career include being an Assistant Director of the Dental Department at Baltimore City Hospital and serving as an Oral Diagnosis Instructor at the University of Maryland College of Dentistry. Richard was a member of the American Dental Association, the Maryland State Dental Association, and the Harford-Cecil Dental Society. He was also the onetime President of the Harford-Cecil Dental Society. Dr. Reveley was in private practice in Fallston, Md., for 33 years.

He was also a golf enthusiast and was a member of the Bon Air Country Club for many years.

As a horse breeder, he loved all aspects of the industry. At his Spring Water Farm in Glen Rock, he enjoyed every step in the journey. . . from watching his mares foal, to watching those foals make runs down the backstretch at Penn National Racecourse. He never tired of talking about his horses to anyone who would listen.

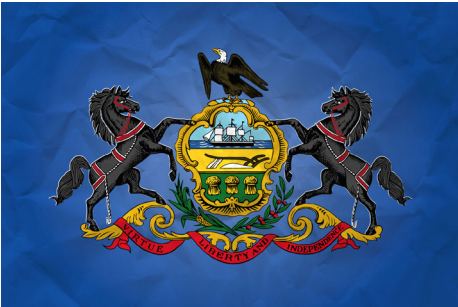

Among the most memorable runners to race in the Spring Water colors were S W Aly'svalentine, a daughter of Malibu Moon whose 13 wins, six in stakes, included back-to-back runnings of the Ambassador of Luck Handicap; and S W Clarence, the enormous son of Iron who stood over 18 hands and won 16 times in 30 starts, five in stakes, including the Iroquois Handicap at Philadelphia Park, Harrison E. Johnson Memorial at Laurel Park, and Lyphard Handicap at Penn National.

A tribute to Dr. Reveley noted that "his accomplishments, however, were not as important as his good qualities. Known for his outgoing personality, kindness, and loyalty, Richard placed an emphasis on family and enjoyed hosting holiday gatherings at the farm. Richard's gentle and patient demeanor had a calming influence on horses and people, and his ever-present sense of humor even had patients laughing in the dentist's chair. Richard spent his life fixing and causing smiles, so even though his family and friends will miss him greatly, it is fitting that when remembering Rich, you can't help but smile."

Dr. Reveley is survived by his wife of 36 years, Gale; brother, Robert H. Reveley of Michigan; and numerous nephews, nieces, and friends. It was Richard's wish that his body be donated to the Anatomy Board of Maryland and that no formal funeral service be held. Interested parties may make donations in his name to the PA HBPA New Start Horse Adoption or the Central Penn Racetrack Chaplaincy. The mailing address for both charities is P.O. Box 88, Grantville, PA. 17028. ■

PA-Bred Stakes Recaps at Penn National

The 2017 PA-Bred stakes schedule has a total of 22 stakes, each worth $100,000. Also continuing is the 25% bonus for all PA-Sired PA-Bred horses finishing first through third in all restricted stakes, which brings the total combined purses to $2.75 million.

Go to the Pennsylvania tracks' websites for the stakes books and to nominate.

Lyphard Stakes

A field of eight older fillies and mares went postward for the $100,000 Lyphard at a mile and a sixteenth over Penn National's turf course, and sent off as favorite was Star-

Ladies Racing's Firsthand Report, making her Penn National debut in her 11th start. Before the enthusiastic Penn Mile Day card, the Todd A. Pletcher-trainee led the field at every call, turned back challenge after challenge and crossed the line a neck in front of Imply for her first stakes win.

The 4-year-old daughter of Blame has been touring the country since making her debut in February 2016 at Gulfstream Park (which she won while setting all the pace at six furlongs on the main track). Her additional starts have come at Keeneland, Churchill Downs, Monmouth Park, Saratoga (twice, including her second win, at five and a half furlongs on the turf), Belmont Park, Tampa Bay and twice at Parx. The second start at Parx resulted in another sprint win on the dirt.

The versatile filly was bred by Lindsay C.F. Scott and Jane MacElree out of the Delaware Township mare Kinsey, a stakes-placed juvenile purchased for $210,000 with Firsthand Report in utero at the Keeneland January Horses of All Ages sale. Firsthand Report was offered at auction at Keeneland in September 2014, and brought a final bid of $310,000 from Starlight. Kinsey was barren in 2014 and has produced nothing but PA-Breds since. Her 2015 colt by Violence has yet to start; she has since produced colts by Street Sense and Tonalist the past two ApriIs.

From 11 career starts, Firsthand Report has a record of 4-3-2 and earnings of $208,395.

Danzig Stakes

The Critical Way entered the Danzig Stakes against rising stars as a maiden winner. He exited undefeated in two starts by re-rallying down the stretch to take the six-furlong stakes by a half-length over odds-on favorite Midtowncharlybrown. Downhill Racer, the 2016 PA-bred champion 2-year-old, was four and a quarter lengths behind the winner in fourth.

Bred by Blackstone Farm, The Critical Way races for Ruis Racing LLC and is trained by California-based Mick Ruis, who purchased the gelded son of Tizway as a 2-year-old at the OBS June sale for $75,000. Twice before The Critical Way had sold at auction: for $17,000 as a weanling at Keeneland November and $65,000 as a yearling at the Keeneland September sale.

Ruis didn't start his charge until May 6, and the gelding, sent off at 45-1 odds, surprised with a length and a half upset in the five and a half Santa Anita maiden special weight when defeating nine others. He went off as the even-money second choice in the Danzig, took the lead at the start, was hounded by Midtowncharlybrown as they cruised through fractions of :22.58 and :45.52, and was losing ground to Midtowncharlybrown after five furlongs in :57.63. But the ground Midtowncharlybrown opened up into the stretch evaporated as The Critical Way reeled him back in. Final time was 1:10.29.

The Critical Way is the first stakes winner for Critical Factor (by Star de Naskra), whose only career stakes mark came at the highest level – a third in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies-G1 at Woodbine. The mare produced a full sister to The Critical Way in 2016 and aborted to the cover of Ready's Image for this year.

New Start Stakes

A week before her half-sister Finest City took home honors as PA-Bred Horse of the Year, Champion Older Female and Female Sprinter, Hank Nothhaft's homebred Grand Prix launched her quest for stardom with a victory in the New Start Stakes. The 3-year-old daughter of Tale of the Cat was making her first East Coast appearance when trainer Gary Mandella shipped her to Penn National on June 3. And she faced a tough group of fillies in the New Start, including last year's PA-Bred champion juvenile filly Rose Tree, who went off as odds-on favorite.

Grand Prix was sharp from the gate, battled on the lead through the :21.90 opening quarter, opened up after a half in :44.61 and continued to show the way home as she posted fractions of :56.77 and a final time of 1:09.61 for the six furlongs. It was a length back to Rose Tree, who gradually cut into the lead but was not a threat in second.

Based in California, Grand Prix had posted her best efforts in her three starts at Golden Gate, where she broke her maiden in her fourth start, and was second twice, including last November's Golden Gate Debutante Stakes. She had also hit the board three times at Santa Anita, including her outing prior to the New Start.

Following her first stakes win, Grand Prix returned to face older runners in a Parx allowance on June 26 and finished second going five furlongs on the turf. Her record stands at 11-2-4-2 for earnings of $126,510.

Nothhaft bred three foals out of the Lemon Drop Kid mare Be Envied. All three are winners, two are stakes winners, and combined they have earned $1,436,979. Be Envied was named 2016 Pennsylvania Broodmare of the Year after the exploits of her champion daughter Finest City, the first PA-bred in 20 years to capture a Breeders' Cup race, when scoring the Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint-G1 at Santa Anita, which earned her the Eclipse Award as 2016 champion female sprinter.
