Grayson-Jockey Club Stallion Durability and Soundness Statistics

The annual report highlights stallions with progeny statistics which would tend to indicate above average performance in two areas – average number of starts per starter and percentage of foals which get to the races. See the PA stallions on this year's list.

On brink of breeding season, PA horsemen rally at Equistar

by Nikki Sherman

Every winter, Pennsylvania's leading Thoroughbred breeding farms hold open houses for interested breeders to attend, giving them ample opportunity to examine the available stallions for their broodmares.

On January 26, 2020, Diamond B Farm in Mohrsville paraded their stallions in front of more than 150 horsemen. Among the crowd was Pennsylvania State Representative Barry Jozwiak, who was impressed by the number of people in attendance. He is friendly with Pennsylvania horsemen and wanted to show his support for the industry located within his district. The atmosphere was filled with excitement: breeding and foaling season was upon them and horsemen were looking forward to a new crop, full of magical possibilities.

That excitement was shattered on Feb. 4, when Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf announced that his upcoming budget plan included transferring over $200 million from the Race Horse Development Trust Fund (RHDTF) to fund a plan for college scholarships. However, Wolf's plan seems to ignore the thousands of Pennsylvanians employed in the equine industry. The money held within the RHDTF is not funded by taxpayers and therefore not available to the Commonwealth, even though some legislators apparently do not understand this fact.

When it became clear that Pennsylvania horsemen were about to begin the race of their lives – right on the brink of breeding season – they banded together at the very next stallion farm open house, held on Feb. 9 at Equistar Training and Breeding in Annville. So, before Airoforce, Crown of Thorns, Poseidon's Warrior, Smarty Jones and Uncle Vinny paraded before a standing-room-only crowd of nearly 300 people, a horsemen's rally was held in the breeding facility.

"The most important thing is to get the facts out in reference to what exactly is happening," said Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association Executive Secretary Brian Sanfratello prior to the rally. "This is not state tax money; this is money from the casinos that go directly to the horsemen."

Pennsylvania Horsemen's Benevolent & Protective Association Executive Director Todd Mosteller was emcee. He began the rally by declaring, "Let's be positive. We have a great story to tell about the tens of thousands of Pennsylvanians who make their living in this industry. You'll have an opportunity to speak to legislators [today]; for you to tell them YOUR story. They need to know how you make your living, and how you put food on the table to support your family. We have a huge, far-reaching impact across the Commonwealth. WE know that. THEY need to know that."

Horsemen from both Thoroughbred and Standardbred racing gathered in the lovely Equistar facility, strolling down the barn aisle past broodmares and stallions alike. Everyone paused at the stall that houses the beloved Kentucky Derby winner Smarty Jones. The chestnut colt carried Pennsylvanians on a thrilling journey during his Triple Crown campaign 16 years ago, and catapulted the state to approve the installation of slot machines in 2004 with the passage of the Race Horse Development Fund (Act 71).

Pasquale Dangelantonio Jr. is a current owner and pinhooking partner with Bourbon Lane Stable. He became interested in horse racing because of Smarty Jones. He now owns parts of nine racehorses.

"I'm from Philly. . . [Smarty Jones] was unbelievable, because we stunk at everything!" laughed Dangelantonio as he stood outside his favorite horse's stall. "Then he came along and almost died before he even raced. The story was so unbelievable that it resonated, because we're Philly and that's what we do. And then years later I thought, wow, I have to get into that business!"

Not only did Act 71 permit slot machines in Pennsylvania, but it also allowed the horse racing industry to bloom. The state is now one of the top programs in the nation. In addition, provisions to Act 71 required that racetracks offer certain benefits for their workers. Thankfully, due to the extra funding provided from Act 71, over 1,000 backstretch workers statewide can now receive health benefits, and eligible horsemen are also earning money towards their pension. Even racehorses are receiving money toward their own retirements, thanks to programs such as Parx Racing's Turning for Home and Penn National's New Start.

Several legislators also attended the rally in full support of the horse racing industry, including PA Senator Dave Arnold, PA State Rep. Mindy Fee, PA State Rep. Sue Helm, and PA State Rep. Tom Mehaffie.

Rep. Mehaffie was very vocal in his support of horse racing. He fell in love with the sport before he entered politics. A close friend raised Thoroughbreds, so he watched it often.

"This is money that was agreed upon by you and the owners of the casinos, and it's your money to make racing better in Pennsylvania," said Rep. Mehaffie. "No tax dollars were going to be used for the racing industry. That money was agreed to, you met your obligation, you paid that money, and you guys stuck to the deal, and a deal's a deal!" Sen. Arnold was similarly concerned by the budget proposal. "We are deeply troubled about the impact of the proposed cuts to agriculture... [However] the good news for your wallet: this was just his proposal."

When Sanfratello took the microphone, he began a passionate speech by asking the "rich horse owners" to raise their hands, which caused a tidal wave of laughter to pass > through the crowd. He then asked if any Arab sheikhs were in attendance, emphasizing the absurdity of several lies that are being told by some legislators.

"We're just a group of hard-working people, 20,000 strong," he said. "Most of our breeders are mom and pop people who get up every day, 365 days a year. We're out there in every type of weather because we love the horses that we have. But I'll tell you who we really are. We're a melting pot of Pennsylvania residents. We're black, we're white, we're Latino... We come from all over the world and we live in Pennsylvania." Sanfratello also reminded everyone that in 2017, Governor Wolf himself signed into law the RHDTF as part of the Gaming Act, which clarified that no funds collected in the trust fund are taxpayer dollars and do not belong to the Commonwealth. For Governor Wolf to change his mind and put his hands into that fund has a lot of horsemen very worried about their future.

On the other hand, Sanfratello shared a bit of his own story aloud, defining his own character. "My father was a Philadelphia police officer for 25 years. He was in the Marine Corps during Korea. I followed in his footsteps by going into the Marine Corps and many of you are veterans too. He told me that there's one thing you have to make sure of, and that is you're only as good as your word."

Now Governor Wolf's judgment will be put to the test, as thousands of Pennsylvanians' livelihoods are in jeopardy. Trainers, grooms, hotwalkers, hay men, jockeys, feed companies, mutuel clerks, apple and carrot farmers, blacksmiths, veterinarians, mushroom farmers and even small businesses such as printers, graphic designers and videographers – all will be on the way to unemployment if the RHDTF is no longer safe.

An Important Message to the Breeding & Racing Industry

As you are aware, Governor Wolf has proposed cutting $200 million from the Race Horse Development Trust Fund. This move is illegal and we are confident that the RHDTF will withstand this assault, but we must take every attack on the fund very seriously.

We would like to refer you to the following sections of the Trust language:

S1405.1 Protection of the Fund – Daily assessments collected or received by the department under section 1405 (relating to the Pennsylvania Race Horse Development Trust Fund) are not funds of the State.

S1405.1 – The Commonwealth shall not be rightfully entitled to any money described under this section and sections 1405 and 1406.

Our Equine Coalition is made up of Breeder and Horsemen organizations throughout Pennsylvania, both Thoroughbred and Standardbred. We are hard at work with the best lobbying firms in the state to prevent this injustice from happening but we're going to need your help! If you're involved in our program and are a resident of PA, please contact your Representative and Senator. As direct contact with him/her is the best communication vehicle, please set up a time in person at their district office and tell them your specific story and where possible, bring others with you so they can also share their potential pain.

If for some reason you cannot visit, please call, email or write. An additional call or email to the Governor's office would also be extremely helpful. Many of these communications have already been sent. If you are not a PA resident, please contact the Governor by phone or email to explain your involvement in the program and displeasure with his proposal.

Our racing industry relies on farms and other businesses to operate on a daily basis. Feed, hay and straw, vets, blacksmiths, tack, equipment and many other services. Our mark reaches to every corner of the state! Please ask them to contact their legislators as they also have a vested interest.

We understand that this action by the Governor has caused great undue stress as we move into the breeding season. We want you to know that many of the legislators already contacted have given us their unwavering support and have said they will not let this happen. Pennsylvania is one of the leading breeding states in the country and with your help we will keep it that way! Go PA!

GRAYSON-JOCKEY CLUB STALLION DURABILITY AND SOUNDNESS STATISTICS FOR 2019

The Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation has released its annual study on stallion durability statistics, aimed to highlight stallions who are commercially viable AND produce progeny statistics which would tend to indicate above average performance in two areas – average number of starts per starter and percentage of foals which get to the races.

To qualify for the lists, a stallion must have ranked within the first 200 sires by progeny earnings for the calendar year 2019. This assures a modicum of success and relevance to the commercial breeding and sales market.

Three different reports were presented – 2019 Sires by Lifetime Starts per Starter, 2019 Sires by Lifetime Percent of Foals of Racing Age Started, and Top 2019 Sires of Stakes Winners 4 Years Old & Up.

On the 2019 Sires by Lifetime Starts per Starter list, three Pennsylvania stallions appear in the top 25 – WynOaks Farm's Weigelia, ranked eighth with 20.24 starts per starter; Northview PA's late leading sire Jump Start (16th), with 19.33; and Smarty Jones, who stands at Equistar Training and Breeding, in 25th (18.06). Diamond B Farm's Talent Search appeared on the list in the 42nd spot, with 16.11 starts per starter, and Warrior's Reward, also standing at WynOaks Farm, was 93rd of the 100 > stallions listed, with 14.08. Weigelia also appears in the Grayson-Jockey Club top 20 on the 2019 Sires by Life-Research Foundation time Percent of Foals of Racing Age Started, ranking 18th with 81.82 percent. Jump Start ranked 64th (76.97 > percent), Talent Search 84th (74.85 percent), newly arrived Poseidon's Warrior (standing at Equistar Training and Breeding) in 85th (74.82 percent). Warrior's Reward 90th (74.38 perent) and Smarty Jones 91st (74.11 percent).

PARSIMONY GETS FIRST STAKES WIN IN DUBAI

The career of the 4-year-old Pennsylvania-bred colt Parsimony has definitely been unusual. It took 18 starts for the Reddam Racing-colorbearer to get his first win. The first two times he ran in stakes he faced graded company early in his 3-year-old season. He finished second twice in California stakes last year, including the Los Alamitos Derby-G3 behind champion Game Winner, three months before his first win.

Parsimony's first stakes win was also unconventional, coming halfway around the world, when he strode home a determined winner in the Curlin Stakes at Meydan Racecourse in Dubai on Feb. 27. What adds to the fascinating story is the race he won has been a steppingstone to the $12 million Dubai World Cup-G1, with previous winners including Curlin (when it was contested as the Jaguar Trophy) and California Chrome. Thus it's conceivable to see Parsimony on one of the world's biggest stages, the Dubai World Cup card, on March 28.

For a horse few people have heard of, Parsimony has carried high hopes from trainer Doug O'Neill's California-based barn. O'Neill's brother Dennis had seen obvious talent in the son of multiple graded stakes winner Dominus two years ago – he paid $400,000 for the gray colt at the Ocala March 2-year-old sale. Parsimony was bred by Maria Montez Haire, who purchased his dam Lil Cora Tee, a stakes-placed daughter Lil E. Tee, for $25,000 with the future stakes winner in utero at the 2016 Keeneland January sale. He was sold as a short yearling at the same sale the next year for $41,000, and went back through the sales ring that September at Keeneland, bringing $85,000.

He debuted at Santa Anita in June 2018 and finished second going five furlongs on the main track. In his next six starts, he ran short, long, on grass and the main track, and was second three more times while facing the likes of Roadster and Gunmetal Gray. His trainer made the choice to go to Oaklawn's Rebel Stakes-G2. "It's one of those situations that he felt and acted like a special colt," O'Neill said of the decision to take the step up. Parsimony finished eighth behind Omaha Beach and Game Winner, and was > given another shot in Keeneland's Blue Grass Stakes-G2. He tired to finish last.

Back in California, the colt followed a third in a maiden special on the turf with a start in the Cinema Stakes at Santa Anita, and finished second. Another third in a maiden special on the turf was followed by the Los Alamitos Derby. He finally walked into the winner's circle after a Santa Anita maiden special weight win at six furlongs on the main track on Oct. 5.

Parsimony's last appearance in the states was a fourth at Del Mar on Nov. 29, his 16th start of the year.

He made his Dubai debut Jan. 23, turning in a solid fourth-place effort, beaten four lengths after setting the pace in the nearly one and a quarter-mile handicap. The Curlin Stakes was the same distance, but this time the gray colt finished strong and pulled away to win by two and three-quarter lengths. The Dubai World Cup is also one and a quarter miles .

O'Neill assistant Leandro Mora noted Parsimony "has always been a positive horse who ran with a lot of tough horses at home. ... He was a little immature last year and was growing, but has matured into a nice horse and loves Meydan." Mora added, "We think he could be the next Pavel." Pavel, a Grade 1 winner, finished fourth in the past two runnings of the Dubai World Cup.

In 22 starts, Parsimony has two wins, seven seconds and three thirds, for earnings of $305,974.

New Broodmare Domicile Requirement for Crop of 2020

Most of you are aware that the broodmare domicile report is a mandatory form that is required to be submitted on an annual basis for all mares intending to foal in the state. Beginning with the crop of 2020, the domicile report must be on file when you register your foal. At the time of registration, the PHBA will verify that the domicile report is on file and was submitted timely.

Please do not use any old forms. The new form is accessible on our website. We are requesting that it be submitted online only. If it is imperative that you need a paper copy, please call our office to have one mailed to you.

Please click here to view the eligibility criteria for a PA-bred, go to our website or contact our office if you have any questions.
